

22/1/07- Comestero Group empowers its presence at Atei

This year, as strong as ever, Comestero Group is present at the International Show of Entertainment, which takes place in London, at the Earls Court Exhibition Centre, from 23rd to 25th January.

The Italian Group, who specialises in payment and money control systems has chosen Atei to present the novelties especially devised for both the entertainment and the casino industry.

The proven electronic technology of RM5 CCTalk coin validator is now available with even higher coin speed selection. RM5 is provided with six measurements sensors, which guarantee an exceptional first-time acceptance of real coins only, whereas through the new 5-ways coin separator the coins can be sorted up to 4 different destinations (i.e. hoppers) or rejected. On its booth, #1909, at the upper level of Earls Court, Comestero Group shows the complete range of tools and accessories for RM5 coin validators, including the front plates F6, available in new smart colours.

Making their debuts at the show are the new versions of change machines, provided with remote system control and anti-theft device.

By using GSM technology, the remote system control transmits in real time all necessary information on the state of the change machine, whereas the anti-theft device - through different sensors - can protect either change machines or newslots and guard the place where they have been located.

Comestero exhibits also the electronic board SECI Twin, especially devised to distribute the coin credit in multiplayer gaming machines, and the whole range of coin counters/sorters. Of particular interest are the new coin counters 710/810, fit to help user to count and sort big quantities of coins, especially when the machine is intensely used. Thanks to the new extra loading device, they guarantee indeed remarkable time saving and better selection efficiency.
